

Information on the use of your personal data

We are committed to protecting your personal data and complying with applicable data -protection laws and would therefore like to inform you about the processing of your personal- data by the following jointly responsible parties (hereinafter: Stemline).

- Stemline Therapeutics Switzerland GmbH, with its registered office at Grafenastrasse 3, 6300 Zug, Switzerland (Stemline);
- Stemline Therapeutics, Inc with registered office in 750 Lexington Avenue, 11th Floor, New York, NY 10022 USA

The designated European representative of Stemline Therapeutics Inc. and Stemline Therapeutics Switzerland GmbH pursuant to Article 27 of the GDPR is A. Menarini Industrie Farmaceutiche Riunite S.r.l., located in Florence, Via Sette Santi 1. The Data- Protection -Officer ("DPO") of the Joint Controllers can be contacted at the following address: dpo@menarini.com Further details about the joint controllership arrangements between the Parties is available on request.

1. What data do we process and what are the purposes of the data processing?

a. Personal data: We process your name, practice or business address, contact details (e.g. telephone number) academic degree, specialisation/professional qualification, as well as any additional data about you that is published on the web (e.g., publications, collaborations, posts on social network, etc.). We collect some of this data ourselves from you or from publicly available sources, and some we receive from our service provider Veeva. This data is necessary for the fulfillment of contracts with you (legal basis: Art. 6 para. 1 p. 1 b) of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and furthermore for the fulfillment of a legal obligation (legal basis: Art. 6 para. 1 p. 1 c) GDPR in conjunction with the applicable laws (e.g. Section 47 para. 4 of German Medicines Act (AMG) or Section 11a para. 2 AMG or Section 63b f. AMG or § 67 para. 6 AMG). Furthermore, the aforementioned data is necessary to protect the following legitimate interests: maintaining our business- relationship with you as well as for purposes of scientific information, marketing purposes and market research (legal basis: Art. 6 para. 1 p. 1 f) GDPR).

b. Information in connection with visits by our field- staff: We process the date and content of the visits made by our field staff, as well as preferred visiting times. In addition, we might also keep track in our systems of other information regarding you as a professional, that are captured by our field staff when interacting with you, such as - by way of example - your level of awareness of our products, your experience as a congress speaker, your affiliations/collaborations with other HCPs, etc. This data is necessary to protect the following legitimate interests: maintaining our business relationship with you, managing our sales force, and for information and marketing purposes (legal basis: Art. 6 para. 1 p. 1 f) GDPR).

c. Information for the fulfillment of contracts with you: If we conclude a contract with you (e.g. on the performance of speaker or consultant activities or in relation to your participation in events), we process the information required for the performance of the contractual services or for the performance of pre-contractual measures, e.g. your contact data, account data, travel data, etc. (legal basis: Art. 6 para. 1 p. 1 b) GDPR). (legal basis: Art. 6 para. 1 p. 1 b) GDPR). We also process booking-related data collected in connection with the performance of a contract (invoices, transfers made, etc.) to fulfill legal obligations on the basis of Art. 6 para. 1 p. 1 c) GDPR in conjunction with the relevant tax laws (e.g. § 147 AO - obligation to retain documents under tax law).

d. Information to comply with a legal obligation: We process the date and content of the Red/Blue Hand letters sent to you. In addition, we process your name and contact details if you inform us of possible side effects or quality defects with regard to our products. If we conduct observational studies in the meaning of Section 67 (6) of the German Medicines Act (AMG) in cooperation with you, we process your name, your contact details, your lifetime doctor's number and the type and amount of compensation actually paid to you in connection with -observational-studies for this purpose.

e. Further information if you have given us your consent to do so: Assuming you have given your consent, we use the data mentioned above under 1.a to 1.c as well as the indication of your preferred communication channels (e.g. e-mail) and your usage- behaviour with regard to e-mails and our websites in order to adapt and personalise our advertising- measures to your needs and to control our marketing and sales measures and to send you targeted scientific information as well as information about our products and offers for participation in training and further education events. The legal basis is your consent given to us (Art. 6 para. 1 p. 1 a) GDPR).

2. To whom is personal data disclosed?

Within Stemline, our employees have access to your data only to the extent necessary to fulfill the purpose in question. For organisational, accounting or other internal management purposes, or to the extent necessary to fulfill the relevant purpose, your data may also be disclosed to Stemline's parent company, A. Menarini IFR Srl, Florence, as well as to other companies of the Menarini Group, including those in third countries outside the EEA area.

We also use external service providers for data processing who support us in the implementation of our marketing measures (e.g. in the operation of our websites, the clearing of address and contact data and in the sending of invitations and newsletters). These service providers process data only in accordance with Stemline's instructions and under Stemline's control and exclusively for the purposes described in this privacy notice.

We also use service providers located in third countries outside the EEA for the processing of your data.

If your data is transferred to countries outside the EEA, we ensure an adequate level of data protection through appropriate guarantees, such as the so-called standard- data protection -clauses provided by the EU Commission or an EU adequacy decision. You can request a copy of the standard data protection clauses or the other relevant guarantee(s) using the contact details below.

As part of our legal obligation, we report the data we collect in the context of adverse reaction reports (see above under 1.d.) to the respective competent authorities (e.g. Federal Institute for Drugs and Medical Devices). We would like to inform you that if your Data may be transferred to non-EEA public authorities responsible for pharmacovigilance, in said cases it may not be possible to sign the aforementioned standard data protection clauses; however, your Data will be processed in accordance with the laws applicable in the country of destination and strictly for the purposes of public interest in the field of public health, internationally recognized and also enshrined in European Law (ensuring a high level of drug quality). Please be informed that in these cases, you may not be able to exercise your right to access, rectify, or object to the processing of your Data to the same extent as guaranteed by the GDPR. Where possible, your Data will normally be transmitted without your first and last name.

We also report reported quality defects of our products (e.g. complaints and counterfeits) as part of our legal obligation. We report the data we collect in the context of non-interventional studies or application-observations (see above under 1.d.) to the responsible organisations (e.g. Kassenärztliche Bundesvereinigung, Spitzenverband Bund der Krankenkassen, etc.) within the framework of our legal obligations. If you participate in a Stemline certified event (e.g. by the Medical Association, Association of Statutory Health Insurance Physicians, Chamber of Pharmacists,), we keep the lists of participants in accordance with the requirements of the applicable continuing education regulations and transmit your EFN barcode to the competent organisations.

3. How long do we store your data?

We store your data as long as this is necessary to fulfill a purpose of data processing described under point 1 (e.g. an existing contract with you or a legal obligation).

4. Your rights

You are entitled to request information about your data stored by us at any time. Please contact us at dachcustomerservice@menarinistemline.com. Furthermore, you have the right to demand the correction of incorrect data or, under the legal conditions, the deletion, blocking, restriction of processing and transfer of your data. You also have the right to object to the processing of your data at any time. If you have given us your consent, you can revoke it at any time with effect for the future. To do so, please contact the Menarini Group's data protection officer dpo@menarini.com. In addition, you have the right to lodge a complaint with the competent supervisory authority.
